Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this section can be found in the prior office action.
2. The prior office actions are incorporated herein by reference. In particular, the observations with respect to claim language, and response to previously presented arguments.
3. Claims 1-10 have been amended.
4. Claims 1-10 are pending.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but they are not persuasive. However Examiner has issued another non-final in order to have applicant a proper opportunity to address the points below since the last rejection was made by previous examiner.

As per Applicant's arguments that "biological information is not obtained by an apparatus held by and carried about by the user but, instead by first and second biological information obtaining parts respectively provided in an owner registration apparatus and an owner confirmation apparatus, each thereof placed in the facility", examiner refers applicant to the following remarks:

- Having the apparatus in a facility or a location is a design choice by nature A recitation directed to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be used does not distinguish the claimed apparatus from the prior art if prior art has the capability to do so perform (See MPEP 2114 and Ex Parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987)). The prior art is replete with references disclosing optical cards used to store information (sensitive, encrypted or otherwise normal data).

- In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., "biological information is not obtained by an apparatus held by and carried about by the user but, instead by first and second biological information obtaining parts respectively provided in an owner registration apparatus and an owner confirmation apparatus, each thereof placed in the facility") are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).
- Applicant's amendments does not change the fact that a biological (biometric) sample of a user is taken by a first apparatus (location not relevant; see case law above) and stored, a sample is taken by the second apparatus and compared, if authentic a user is authenticated.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 103

See the previous examiner action in view of new examiner remarks above.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: see enclosed PTO-892.
